TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1875.

NEVADA'S EXERTIONS APPRECIATED.

Our exchanges from all portions of the Coast contain flattering notices of the efforts being made by Nevada for a proper representation at the Centennial. Here is the latest, from the Call:

If the efforts of the State of Nevada, Colorado and Arizona are properly backed by California, the Pacific Coast will make a brilliant and magnificent display at the Centennial which will astonish the visitors. In Nevada and each of the Territories named, individual effort is being exerted in conjunction with the liberal appropriations made, to collect a cabinet that shall surpass anything ever before exhibited. There are private museums in this State which could be temporarily drawn upon to swell the number of specimens—particularly of gold nuggets and gold-bearing quartz—which would greatly heighten the interest of the collection, and we presume our people are fully awake to the importance of having California well represented in that department. The Reese River mines will be brought into notice by a specimen from the North Star mine weighing ninety-five pounds, studded all over with ruby silver and antimonial sulphurets; and the mining region around Virginia City will be taxed, from its lodges and its mills, to make a showing that will do honor to Mount Davidson. California has only to put forth the effort to preserve that reputation which, for a quarter of a century, she has maintained before the world for her transcendent mineral wealth.

This uniform for the conductors of the Pennsylvania R. R. Company is a gorgeous attire. To prevent peculiarities the entire suit is without pockets. The coat which is to be of blue cloth, is of sack pattern, and buttons to the chin, two rows of brass buttons and gold stripes running down the front, the monogram of the company on the collar. A leather satchel, having two compartments, for tickets and specified change, will be strapped to the conductor's shoulder. The compartment containing the tickets will be looked at the start, and not opened until the end of the trip. Many of the conductors threaten to resign. Conductor Jas. Fields, one of the oldest, has sent in his resignation.

Members of the mystic tie are taught that their ancient brethren were accustomed to hold their meetings upon high hills or in low valleys, the better to guard against the approach of crows and cavedroppers ascending or descending. In imitation of their ancient brethren, the members of Virginia City Lodge, No. 3, P. and A. M., are notified to assemble around the flagstaff of Mount Davidson, Wednesday, September 8, at 2 o'clock P. M., for the transaction of regular and important business. Sojourning brethren in good standing in their respective lodges are invited to attend.

The affairs of the Bank of California progress in the most satisfactory manner. The new fund swells in amount and the adhesion of the old stockholders to the proposition is full. This is the wisest course for them since there is no possibility of shaking the contingent liability for the Bank's debts, and to accept a sufficient guarantee of new capital against that liability is to accept of a very liberal offer.

THE NEW POSTAL CARDS.—These new cards will soon be ready for issue, specimens having been received from the printers by the Department at Washington. No lines are printed on its face, which renders it smooth or to write upon; and it is said to be neat, and an improvement upon the old.

Crowder's debut for Chief of Police of San Francisco is admitted. The Democrats of that city, in order to get control of the Police Department, already announced a determination to push through the legislature a Metropolitan Police Bill.

Trunking house of M. P. Freeman & Co., at Elko, will resume its regular business to-day.

No doubt our many readers will remember that the stomach of the late W. C. Ralston was placed in the hands of a chemist to see if there was any trace of poison there. The following is the report of the chemist:

Dr. B. R. Stone, Present—Sir: As directed by you I proceeded to make a chemical analysis of the stomach and contents placed in my hands. I divided it into two portions and subjected one to tests for organic poisons and the other for inorganic poison. I first made special tests for strychnin and morphia, and finding no traces of either I applied gramp tests to a small portion of the substance and found no trace of organic poison. The remaining portion was treated with refore to the presence or absence of inorganic poisons. The most perfect tests failed to discover the presence of any mineral poison whatever. All ingredients used were, as is customary, first tested, and counter reactions by the poisons sought were made; so that the proof in each case is conclusive.

Yours,
LOUIS FALKENAU.

The jury then retired and after a few minutes deliberation returned the following verdict.

The deceased was William C. Ralston, late of the city and county of San Francisco. He was a native of Ohio. His age was 49 years.

On Friday afternoon, August 27, 1875, Mr. Ralston, according to his habit of bathing there, proceeding to the North Beach, for the purpose of sea bathing. He was carried by the flood beyond his powers to return, and his exertions to reach the shore added to the shock to his system by contact with the water while he was overboarded, produced congestion of the brain and vital organs.

His death was caused primarily by such congestion, and secondarily by drowning. The jury are unanimously of the opinion, and do find that Mr. Ralston's death was accidental.

THE SHOSHONES.

Captain J. A. Palmer, who has charge of the Indian reservation twenty miles northwest of Carlin, informs the Elko Independent that the Indians there have planted, cultivated, and are now harvesting thirty acres of as good grain as is grown in the State. They have also planted and raised ten acres of potatoes, the same having produced a splendid article in abundance. A majority of the Indians following their natural bent, keep moving to and fro, impatient of even the semblance of restraint, notwithstanding which, the average number usually in attendance at meal time will not fall far short of three hundred. To the young and semi-civilized Shoshone the haunts of the white man possess attractions far superior to anything offered by a rural or savage life, and the many little services cheerfully rendered by them—accepting compensation in the shape of cold victuals and cast-off clothing—afford many conveniences duly appreciated by their white brethren. Although many of the tribe do not choose to avail themselves of the advantages of the reservation, yet a knowledge of the fact that, in case of sickness or other misfortune, provision has been made for their relief, and also for the adjustment of their grievances, has already been productive of good results.

A CALIFORNIA SHERIFF, who had got tired of having conscience stricken Nathan murderers give themselves up and desire free transportation to New York, there to expiate their crime on the gallows, addressed the last candidate as follows: "So your conscience ain't easy, eh?" "Ah," replied the murderer, "I have the curse of Cain upon my brow; I wander, wander, but find no rest." "And you want to be hanged?" "I feel that I shan't rest easy till I'm hanged." "Well, my friend," replied the Sheriff, thoughtfully, "The county treasury ain't well fixed at present, and I don't want to take any risks in case you're not the man and are just fishing for a free ride to New York. Besides, the New York Courts can't be trusted to hang a man. On the whole, as you say you deserve to be killed, and want to be killed, and as it can't make much difference to you or society how you are killed, so as you are, I guess I'll kill you myself." So saying, he drew his revolver, but the conscience-stricken murderer had departed in the direction of Alaska with such fervor that people couldn't see the brand of Cain on his brow for dust.

Four statues have been placed on the tower of the city hall in Buffalo. "Liberty" keeps a sharp lookout over the Niagara river; "Justice" looks across the city; "Agriculture" scans the wagons of the farmers bringing their fruits to market, while "Commerce" has an eye on the lake.

When Newton Booth goes back to the Senate, after the dead failure he has made in the California campaign, he will be like a knot on a log—neither useful nor ornamental. The Austin Reveille hit the nail on the head that time.

The Nevada and Northern Telegraph Company completed its line from Silver City, Idaho, to Boise City, the capital of the Territory, last Saturday. The Company is pushing forward the line to Portland, Oregon, and we understand it will be done in fifty days. This will give Portland two outlets by telegraph. The N. & N. T. Co. connect with the A. & P. T. Co. at Winnemucca. This line will be about 900 miles long, when completed.

EXPLAINED.—She tried to sit down in the street car, but was pinned so tight she couldn't. Old lady peeped over her specs and asked her, "How long have you been afflicted that way?" The young lady blushed and made "a break," sitting down sideways, and holding her knees together so tight that she looked as if she had on a one-legged pair of breeches. Old lady noticed her sitting in this awkward, cramped position, and whispered, "Bilo, I spose; I've had 'em thar myself."

Interesting to Smokers.

Smokers will read with pleasure the following anecdote of that great man, President Grant. The Indianapolis Herald publishes it:

One morning the President was taking a stroll through the White House grounds, with his hands behind his back and a cigar between his lips. When nearing the gate opening upon the avenue, his attention was attracted to a man and child who were standing near a lamp-post, while the former endeavored to light a match for his cigar. The wind was blowing strong, and the child, wearying of seeing his father fail so often, and catching sight of the smoking figure at the gate cried out, "Wait, pa! I'll get you a light," bounded over to the ruler of the nation, before the astonished and embarrassed father could make an effort to detain him. With a merry twinkle in his eyes, Grant handed the little fellow his wood, who took it in triumph to his father, and seemed puzzled at the look of confusion on his face. But he lighted his cigar from that of the President, and with many apologies for his son's forwardness, handed it back. A short conversation was indulged in, and Grant expressed his admiration for the youth's independence. This incident occurred in the early part of the present Administration, and to-day the father of the precocious infant occupies a prominent position under the Government.

An ordinary lighthouse where oil is used gives an illuminating power equal to about 200 candles. An electric light in England flashes over the North sea its condensed beams, each of which is more than an equivalent to the combined light of 800 candles.

PETROLEUM constantly applied to the cutting tools will enable the cutting of the hardest alloys with the same ease as steel tempered to straw color. The steel is far more easily worked by keeping the cutter moistened with a mixture of petroleum and turpentine.

The New Northwest says that "Montana should have a practical quartz mill in operation at the Centennial and take her proper place alongside Nevada as a first-class gold and silver producing region."

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Last Day.

The Nevada Conference met at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. The devotional exercises were conducted by Chas. McElvey.

The Bishop announced the following transfers to this Conference: A. J. Wells of California and N. G. Luke of the Erie Conference.

The following committee was appointed as an Educational Committee to take charge of the Seminary that the church will build in this State: A. H. Tevis, J. D. Hammond, Warren Nims, A. J. Wells, C. McElvey, Captain A. W. Pray, J. P. Wheeler, Hon. D. C. McKenny and W. M. Boardman.

D. C. Arnold discontinued at his own request.

Quite a number of reports pertaining to church matters were adopted, also several resolutions, among which were a note of thanks to the citizens of Reno for their hospitality, and to the Bishop for his earnest work for the benefit of the general work.

After the singing of a hymn and a prayer by E. C. Arnold the Bishop read the appointments for the ensuing year, as follows:

CARSON DISTRICT.

J. D. Hammond, Presiding Elder; Truckee, N. G. Luke; Reno, A. J. Wells; Carson City, A. H. Tevis; Virginia City, Chas. McElvey; Gold Hill and Dayton, T. S. Uren; Genoa, to be supplied; Walker River, M. W. Pratt; Owen River, L. Case.

SIERRA DISTRICT.

A. P. White, Presiding Elder; Sierra Valley, Geo. Jennings; American Valley, A. P. White; Indian Valley, F. M. Willis; Honey Lake Valley, Warren Nims; Big Valley, to be supplied by J. C. McClelland; Surprise Valley, Lorr Ewing.

AUSTIN DISTRICT.

W. C. Gray, Presiding Elder; Austin, W. C. Gray; Unionville, W. K. Maston; Winnemucca, C. B. Hinkle; Eureka, J. H. De La Matyr.

G. W. Fitch was transferred to the California Conference.

The Bishop pronounced the benediction and declared the Conference adjourned sine die.

CHARGE IN WASHOE ACT.—Sunday evening a man broke into the private room of Morris Ash, and after ransacking it to his heart's content, took a lot of his clothes and hid them in an outhouse. Here they were seen and recognized and a watch placed, so that when they were called for the thief could be " nabbed." He came for them shortly after dark and found himself in the hands of the law. He was placed in jail and held to answer.

SOLDIERS.—Sunday morning the vicinity of the Depot Hotel had quite a military look, for a squad of soldiers, who were en route for Angel Island and Fort Bidwell, had camped there and their guns stacked, while their other traps were lying in confusion worst confounded. They came in prairie schooners, and after a brief stay started over the Sierras.

We are informed that considerable petty thieving has been done about town within a few weeks, and that the town authorities have been making successful efforts to ferret out the rascals. It would be prudent for people to keep a close lookout and so secure their houses as to not tempt the thieves.

PERSONAL.—Ex-Governor Blaisdell was in town on Sunday last, and like a good man went to church.

A Cherry Creek dispatch of Sunday morning reports what seems to be a serious Indian outbreak in Spring Valley. A messenger from the Valley—probably an Indian—reached Cherry Creek last Friday night, with the intelligence that A. C. Cleveland, well known in Washoe county, and Dan Murphy, a neighboring cattle-holder, were besieged in the house of the former by five hundred Indians; also, that two white men and one Indian had been killed. A party of twenty armed men left for the relief of the whites, and probably arrived in the valley about noon yesterday. If they were armed with repeating rifles, they were doubtless able to scatter the savages. The cause of the outbreak is not reported. Spring Valley is about fifty miles southeast of Cherry Creek. It contains but few settlers, and the most of the whites there are engaged in cattle-herding. Cleveland owns between two and three thousand head of stock, and it is probable that many of them have been killed or driven away by the red-skins. It is thought that the wife of Cleveland is with him, and fears for the safety of the party may be reasonably entertained. The Indians are supposed to be Shoshones from Steptoe Valley.

District Court.

Yesterday morning Judge Wright called the District Court to order and proceeded to organize the Grand Jury, which is comprised of the following gentlemen: C. H. Eastman, Foreman, Geo. Jamison, N. Hammond, Morris Ash, John Lee, M. C. Luke, A. H. Kinney, Barney Clow, N. C. Hasland, M. V. Gilbert, W. R. Chamberlain, David McFarland, R. S. Gammons, H. H. Boek, F. Lomman, John Kleppe, Geo. Deromer, R. F. Hoy, J. C. Haynes, C. A. Gibson, Joseph Frey, G. Dodge, W. D. Coldren, and W. M. Biddleman. This week all civil cases to be tried by the Court will be taken up in their regular order. No jury cases will be called until next week, which will be wholly occupied in trial of criminal cases. The Grand Jury have a large amount of business before them; some twelve criminal cases will be brought up for their investigation.

FAIR WEEK.—Of course during Fair week Reno will be crowded with visitors and shows will find quite a bonanza in the full houses they will draw. Manager Smith informs us that quite a rivalry was had between several troupes to secure Dyer's Hall during Fair week, but he had favored John Piper, on condition that he brings a first-class troupe here. This he has agreed to do and we believe the bargain was made. By the way all of our business men are preparing for the Fair by making extra arrangements. The Fair is only a month off now—so they are none too soon. We would suggest the propriety of having the streets all cleaned out and repaired so that the thousands of visitors will receive a good impression of Reno, and so be induced to locate here.

REV. E. C. ARNOLD.—By reference to the proceedings of the Nevada Conference it will be seen that this gentleman has withdrawn from the ministry. In thus parting with him justice demands us to say that he has labored hard, long and earnestly for the building up of the church here, and many things remain as silent but powerful evidences of his energy. We are not advised as to his future course, but wish him success wherever he may go. Rev. A. J. Wells, his successor, is known to all, and we need not say that he will do his duty here, for the people of Reno know he will do it well.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.—Many of our readers doubtless noticed a portable engine and a threshing machine on the side track the other day. These were for a farmer in Carson Valley, who proposes to do all this kind of work for the country around about him. They have been shipped to their destination.

REAL ESTATE AGENT.—Any person desiring to purchase, sell or rent a house, or to transact any business in the real estate line will do well to interview Charlie Jones, who is thoroughly posted upon all property of that description in the town, and can negotiate upon better terms than any other person, as he makes that business his specialty.

MEDAL.—M. M. Fredrick, the jeweler of the State, is now making some very pretty silver medals, which all life members of the Nevada State Agricultural, Mining and Mechanical Society will do well to have. The engraving on them is very fine, and the owner's name will also be put on without extra charge. These medals only cost $4 each, and orders can be left with W. R. Chamberlain, or sent to Fredrick; direct Virginia City.

GOOD SERMON.—The sermon delivered by Bishop Peck Sunday morning was a good one, and the large crowd who listened to it, were highly pleased. The Bishop is a man of power in the pulpit and has a large influence. He left last night for California, where he presides over the Conference to meet in San Francisco in a week or two.

REPEATING.—Since the fire in Virginia City, by which the Western Union Telegraph office there was destroyed, the office here has been made a repeating office, and six "lightning strikers" are all the time busy taking care of the business of that line. "Brownie" is still on deck.

We are under obligations to Revs. Warren Nims and Geo. Jennings, the Conference Secretaries, for furnishing us with their minutes for publication.

JOHN SUNDERLAND STILL AHEAD.—John Sunderland has just returned from San Francisco with the largest and best selected stock of boots and shoes ever brought to Reno. He has goods to suit all prices and all people. He has a fine assortment of children's school shoes, which give more satisfaction than any shoe ever brought to this town. He is selling boots and shoes at panic prices. Call at his store and examine for yourself. He has also on hand and for sale, a fine assortment of shoemaker's findings, which he offers to the trade at a small advance over San Francisco prices.

REMOVED.—The Misses Vance are now located on Virginia street, next door to the photograph gallery. They will receive at their dressmaking establishment and make to order in the latest styles, all kinds of plain and fancy sewing.

SELLING OFF AT COST.—Mrs. McNeely offers her entire stock of goods for sale, at cost, for cash. The ladies of Reno and vicinity will do well to call early and secure bargains, which will be had for cash.

NOTICE.—Mr. Nels. Groenman is no longer our authorized agent. Our patrons will govern themselves accordingly.
 S. LAM & Co.

These are cool nights, and most people who sit on the piazza till late in the evening conclude that it's a "bound time to get inside and go to bed."

A RHODE ISLAND man has died and left his daughter $20,000,000. There is a chance for some nice young man who wants to start an evening paper.
